

DIANE GRIMLEY

Diane Grimley is a committed teacher and franchise owner with a passion for early childhood education.

Her academic background blends education and technical expertise. She earned a Programme in Grade R Teaching from UNISA. She also holds qualifications in structural draughting and multi-disciplinary drawing office practice, with training in AutoCAD, Revit, and technical illustration. This combination of educational and technical knowledge has enabled her to excel in both teaching and architectural roles, showing adaptability and a capacity to master new skills quickly.

Professionally, Diane has experience in both education and architecture. Before focusing on early childhood education, she worked as an architectural technologist at firms such as Paragon Architects, TC Design Architects, and Landmark Studios, contributing to high-end projects locally and abroad. Diane's journey highlights her versatility, ambition, and dedication to making a meaningful difference in the lives of children and within the professional environments she has served.

Diane drives fundraising through the Cedarwood School PTA, ensuring efforts go beyond revenue to strengthen the community and enrich learners' experiences.
